LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

The Letter

A letter of Recommendation is a tool to convince the admission officer that you are a worthy candidate and that your qualification and dedication are well suited to the course. It provides the admission committee with substantial information to create a positive impact.

It is a distant interview of sorts wherein the admission officer relies on the recommendation of an expert which successfully establishes you as a perfect applicant. While the transcripts establish the academic criteria, the Recommendation letter allows the officer insight into your personality and passion for the course.

Choose the referee wisely since this document has a substantial effect on the decision of the admissions officer. It may be obtained from a person who has known you in an academic or a professional capacity and can provide substantial details about your achievements.

Remember

The letter may be obtained from the Professor/Head of Department/Principal.

Ensure that the personal and academic achievements and performances are highlighted

It should be a realistic assessment of the students – substantiating the analytical capacity and the leadership qualities with healthy communication skills.

Structure

Opening

Establish the relationship between the students and the referee. Include the time period of knowing the student

Body

Include the Characteristics of the students that are relevant to the course

Include knowledge of the subject that the student has gained during studying with you.

Incorporate areas of strength and any awards/recognition that the student has received

Share personal experience with the student and any specific responsibilities that were effectively completed

Emphasize the ability of the student to work in a team, Leadership qualities, and Motivation factor

Ensure that the student is seen as dedicated, hardworking and goal-oriented with qualities to deal with challenges.

Summarise

Specifically, recommend the student as a GOOD FIT for the university.

Ascertain that the student, as well as the university, would gain from the presence of the student at the university.

It's Important

Ensure that the Recommendation Letter highlights the strengths and achievements of the student

The document should be a fair account with distinctions made between opinions and facts

The letter should be more than just a character certificate. It should reflect the strengths of the student.

It should reinforce that the student would be a beneficial student for the university.

QUEEN MARY UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

With students from over 160 countries, Queen Mary is one of the most internationally diverse institutions in the world.

We are proud to trace the roots of today's the Queen Mary University of London back to the great charitable institutions of the city's East End.

The London Hospital Medical College was founded in 1785, as part of The London Infirmary that served the poor. The People's Palace opened in 1887, and brought accessible education, culture and recreation to the East End – uncovering so much ability that technical education soon blossomed into academic excellence in science, arts and the humanities. St Bartholomew's Hospital Medical College can trace its history back nearly 900 years to 1123, the reign of Henry I.

ADVANTAGE QUEEN MARY'S

- We are a Russell Group university, operating across five campuses in London and at sites across Europe and Asia.
